

FRIDAY September 4, 2015

8:00-8:55	registration (money for accommodation!), small breakfast
8:55-9:00	official opening
9:00-10:15	invited speaker: Pavel Caha, Locatives in Shona and Luganda: some lessons for the categorization of expressions (invited talk and discussion period)
10:15 - 10:40	coffee break
10:40-11:00	Lilla Pintér (Pázmány University, RILS, Hungary) Experimental investigation of the exhaustivity of structural focus
11:00-11:20	Ömer Eren (Boğaziçi University, Turkey) The Nanosyntax of 'Non-basic' Spatial Orientations
11:20-11:40	Júlia Keresztes (Péter Pázmány Catholic University, Hungary) [Focus] feature: Evidence from pied-piping in Hungarian
11:40-13:00	lunch
13:00-13:20	Magdalena Bańka-Kowalczyk (University of Wrocław, Poland) The Polish women in the discourse of controlled feminism. Quantitative analysis based on texts from the "Trybuna Ludu" from the years 1949-1956
13:20-13:40	Bálint Huszthy (Pázmány Péter Catholic University, Hungary) Arguments against heterosyllabicity of /sC/ clusters in Italian phonology
13:40-14:00	Milena Milenova (Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece) Vowel reduction in the interlanguage phonology of Bulgarian learners of Modern Greek - an acoustic study
14:00-14:20	coffee break
14:20-14:40	Marcin Wągiel (Masaryk University in Brno, Czech Republic) The Semantics of Polish Multiplicative Adjectives
14:40-15:00	Karolina Traczyk (University of Wrocław, Poland) The common grammar problems of Ukrainians learning Polish as a foreign language
15:00-15:20	Anita Bagi (University of Szeged, Hungary) Metaphor - in a different way
15:20-16:00	coffee break (+ 4 posters)
16:00-16:20	Anna Chromá and Filip Smolík (Charles University in Prague, Czech Republic) Personal Pronoun Acquisition in the Relation to the Theory of Mind in Czech Toddlers
16:20-16:40	May Olaug Horverak (The University of Agder, Norway) A study on how students and teachers perceive writing instruction inspired by genre-pedagogy and systemic functional linguistics
16:40-17:00	Richard Madsen (Aalborg University, Denmark) L2 influence on L1
17:00-17:15	coffee break
17:15-19:15	Jakub Dotlačil: Experimental Methods in Linguistics (workshop)
19:30-22:00	conference dinner (buffet with soup, vegetarian and chicken dishes, rice and bread, and desert for Kč 150, at Taste of India: http://tasteofindia.cz/)
22:00-00:00	craft beer at the Hoblina outdoor pub: https://www.facebook.com/kinohoblina (weather permitting) or at the Svatováclavský Brewery if the weather is bad (http://www.svatovaclavsky-pivovar.cz/)

posters

Ludmila Lacková (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Grammars and semiotic descriptions of DNA
Michal Jurka (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Something in Nothing: Zero in Czech Language and Communication
Eva Nováková (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Say it with a noun: Stylistic analysis of nominal patterns in European Union text varieties
Vojtěch Duda (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) 900 Years of Wanting: The formal and semantic evolution of four English lexical verbs
Michaela Králíková (Masaryk University in Brno, Czech Republic) The Effect of L1 Accent on Perception of Vocalic Quantity in Czech as L2

SATURDAY September 5, 2015

9:00-10:15	invited speaker: Klaus Abels, Sluicing, identity, and the poverty of the stimulus (invited talk and discussion period)
10:15 – 10:40	coffee break
10:40-11:00	Mihaela Zamfirescu (University of Bucharest, Romania) Experimental data for the licensing of PPIs in Romanian
11:00-11:20	Mihaela Tanase-Dogaru and Mihaela Zamfirescu (University of Bucharest, Romania) The syntax and polarity sensitivity of 'degree' pseudo-partitive constructions in Romanian: Oleacă de/ un pic de (a little)
11:20-11:40	Sandra Ronai (CASTL-FISH, UiT The Arctic University of Norway, Tromsø, Norway) Spelling Out the CP/IP contact zone: The case of the Romanian subjunctive particle
11:40-13:00	lunch
13:00-13:20	Dawei Jin (The State University of NY at Buffalo, USA) Intervention Effects in Alternative Questions: Scope interacts with Topicality
13:20-13:40	Gergő Turi (Pázmány University, RILS, Hungary) Hungarian Subject Islands and the Missing Freezing Effect
13:40-14:00	Anna Dabrowska (John Paul II Catholic University of Lublin, Poland) Unaccusative or unergative? The case of the English verb 'to die'
14:00-14:40	coffee break (+ 5 posters)
14:40-15:00	Kamila Sysa (Uniwersytet Wrocławski, Poland) Gender Congruency Effect in Polish and the Influence of Grammatical Number on Gender
15:00-15:20	Petra Charvátová (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Subject verb agreement with a/the number of phrases
15:20-15:40	Elena Callegari (Oslo University, Norway) Superiority and the Root_EMBEDDED Asymmetry
15:40-16:00	coffee break
16:00-16:20	Jelena Stojković (University of Niš, Serbia) On nominal gradability with prefixes in (colloquial) BCMS
16:20-16:40	Asuka Mitsui (Graduate school, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, Japan) The Gradation of 'Hybrid Nouns' in Russian
16:40-17:00	Yi-Ming Chou (National Tsing Hua University, Taiwan) The distribution and reference of empty pronoun in Formosan languages
17:00-18:00	goodbye drinks at the English Department
18:30-22:00	final conference dinner at the Jazz Tibet Club (http://www.jazztibet.cz/)

posters

Anna Kozánková (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Prenominal possessive structure in a cross-linguistic perspective
Katerina Braunova (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Native and non-native perception of English speech in noise
Lucie Langerová (Palacký University in Olomouc, Czech Republic) Morphological Alternations of a Verbal Ending in Swift's Work: A Diachronic View
Krzysztof Hwaszcz (University of Wrocław, Poland) The relationship between prosody and semantic transparency in English compounds: evidence from language processing
Joanna Bozek and Krzysztof Hwaszcz (University of Wrocław, Poland) Processing figurative language vs. literal language: The case of novel metaphors and opaque Adjective-Noun compounds Zsófia Kisföldi (University of Szeged, Hungary) Difficulties with language acquisition in autism spectrum disorders

esf european social fund in the czech republic

MSMT
MINISTRY OF EDUCATION,
YOUTH AND SPORTS

INVESTMENTS IN EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT

inkultus

CZ.1.07/2.2.00/28.0137